The Italian answer agreed to the "hands off" suggestion "in principle" but reserved the right to ask for clarification of her position in the agreement.

Diplomatic sources said new notes would be dispatched to interested powers proposing the prohibition of shipments of arms, munitions, airplanes, or bombs as any other war materials to Spain proper or to Spanish Morocco, the seat of the revolutionary movement.

TANGIER, INTERNATIONAL ZONE OF MOROCCO, Aug. 6.—Four thousand additional rebel troops and large quantities of arms and munitions were transported overnight from Ceuta to Alhucemas under cover of darkness which sank the loyalist gunboat Pinta, the rebel headquarters of Tetuan, announced today.

Young China Boy Swings By His Hair

The implacable face of the Orient looks upon Canada for the first time in the person of Yen Shou, aged 8, a recent arrival in Vancouver from China. A trouper of five years' experience, he has grown a special head-dress so that his father, one of a company of Chinese acrobats, can whirl him around and toss him about for others to catch. Young Yen doesn't mind, however. In fact, he likes the plaudits of the audience and takes a bow with all the gravity of his ancient race.

Steamships Have Grown Up Quickly

RIMNEY, Aug. 6.—In an old edition of a New York newspaper, "Brother Jonathan," published on July 4, 1857, and recently unearthed at Rimney, an item pertaining to the steamship "Peregrine" refers to it as "The Iron Steamship Peregrine, the new and elegant ocean steamship belonging to the Cunard line." The exact dimensions of the Peregrine were not set down, but a contemporary ship, the Scotia (1861), of the Cunard line, a paddle-steamer type of vessel, was 366 feet in length, cylinder diameter 100 inches with a stroke of 12 feet, and the engine were of the side-lever type. The Scotia cost the prior record of crossing from Bristol to New York of 13 days, down to nine days.

When perused in the light of data concerning the Queen Mary, with her tonnage exceeding 80,000 and her luxuriousness and speed, the Brother Jonathan item is an eye-opener.

WAIT TO SEE SCRIP RESULT

DRUMHELLER, Aug. 6.—Following the initial issue of $3000 to a selected number of constituents in the province there will be no further release of property or affidavits for some time at least for the Drumhellier constituency according to Herbert Ingersoll, M.L.A., who told a zone meeting of the Drumhellier constituency Social Credit organization on Tuesday night that no further grant to scrip had been made either in the Drumhellier constituency or any other constituency to carry on the work and wages spent during August. Mr. Ingersoll gave as the reason that they were waiting to see how the scrip would circulate before continuing the experiment. Coinciding with this announcement, the 60 men working on the scrip project in the Drumhellier district were notified Wednesday that the entire $3000 appropriation had been expended and therefore the work would have to be suspended.

Harvest Is 10 Days Advanced

There is likely to be a better yield than was expected earlier in the season, especially from the late sown crops, which were not too far advanced to benefit from the rains during the last two weeks in July. Yields from them are expected to run from 25 to 40 bushels to the acre.
